DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed September 16, 2003 and the remarks presented therewith have been carefully considered. However, they are not deemed to be fully persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is confusing in that it is unclear whether the "suction control unit", as set forth in the preamble, actually comprises "a suction pad", or if this "suction pad" is really part of the "plate suction and lifting device".

Also, there is no clear antecedent basis for "the flat part of the plate" as recited in claim 1, line 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Govzman et al..

Art Unit: 3652

The patent to Govzman et al. shows a suction control unit comprising a travel body (40) for handling flat plates (14,16) between various "tables" (20-26). The travel body contains a suction contact surface (102) with a pressure sensor (96) coupled thereto such that the plate being handled is repositioned if the detected suction pressure is insufficient (see col. 6, lines 20-25 and 34-37).

In response to applicant's remarks, it is pointed out that while the "reapplied" vacuum pressure of the Govzman et al. system causes the clamping member (66) to retract as the plate is "re-positioned", the suction pad (102) is also subjected to this reapplied pressure through channel (100). Further, the suction pressure at surface (102) would inherently exist at least to some extent while the plate is clamped by member (66) during the transfer of the plate between tables (20-26).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
